

RHEA REPEATS CHARGE ABOUT TOBACCO TRIAL

Cites Federal Reporter Showing Morrow As Attorney In The Case.

In support of his charge that Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor, prosecuted the cases against five tobacco growers, charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust law by combining in an effort to bring about better prices for their tobacco, resulting in their conviction, Thomas S. Rhea, Democratic campaign manager, issued a statement last night in which he cited the Federal Reporter. His statement, coming on the heels of a denial by Mr. Morrow, follows:

"Mr. Morrow, in his speech in Winchester, called in question the statement made by Congressman Cantrill and myself, when we charged that he prosecuted five farmers and tobacco growers under the Sherman anti-trust law. And he says that if we had investigated we would have known the facts.

(Cites Federal Reporter) "I have made an investigation, and find on page 1, Volume 192, Federal Reporter, that on December 5, 1911, the case of United States against John S. Steers and other farmers, was affirmed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and this record shows that the following attorneys participated in the trial of this case: W. W. Dickerson (Clare, Dickerson and Clayton, and Myers and Howard, on the brief), for plaintiff in error; E. P. Grover, special Assistant Attorney General (James A. Fowler Assistant Attorney General, and Edwin P. Morrow, United States Attorney, on the brief), for the United States.

Will Mr. Morrow deny that this is a correct record of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals? If this is a true record, then Mr. Morrow did prosecute Mr. Steers and the other farmers under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Mr. Morrow, tell the people of Kentucky whether or not while you were United States District Attorney, you wrote a letter protesting against the pardon of these Grant county farmers a short time before they were pardoned by President Taft?

Mr. Morrow, did you, while United States District Attorney, prosecute the Tobacco Trust, or any other trust? And why didn't you prosecute the trust which was preventing the farmers of this State from obtaining a fair price for their tobacco?"

Denial By Morrow
Mr. Morrow, in denying the allegation in a speech in Winchester Wednesday night, said:

Thomas S. Rhea, chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, Monday in a speech in Benton, charged that while I was United States District Attorney I caused to be indicted and prosecuted certain tobacco growers under the anti-trust law of the United States, and that I obtained the conviction of these tobacco growers. In a speech here and several days ago, in Paris, on Monday, Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill made the same charge.

In response to this matter I have this to say. The charge made by Mr. Rhea and Mr. Cantrill are absolutely false, and with any investigation to ascertain the truth these gentlemen could have known the facts and could have known that the statements made by them are untrue. I did not cause the tobacco growers to be indicted. I did not prosecute them. I had nothing whatever to do with their conviction. I was not United States District Attorney at the time they were indicted, tried or convicted. In support of this statement I produce a certified copy of the orders of the United States Court at Covington showing my commission as United States Attorney is dated January 31 1911, and the order showing that the indictment against John S. Steers and others was returned on February 17, 1910, nearly a year before I took office and that upon this indictment the defendants were prosecuted and convicted by James H. Tinsley, United States Attorney, and Edwin P. Grover, special assistant to the Attorney General, and that conviction was made on April 16, 1910, nine months before I took office.

HOGS BELOW $15; TOUGH OLD MARK

Hog prices dropping precipitately on the local market, fell below the $15 mark on the Bourbon Stockyards for the first time in two years.

The best porkers on the market today, declining an additional half dollar after the severe slump of yesterday, sold at $14.75 a hundred pounds. The decline on best hogs yesterday, amounted to 85 cts, a decline of $1.35 per hundred weight in two days.

Since July 21 of this year hog prices on the local market have headed downward consistently. On that date an all time high record mark of $23 for the local market was reached, the decline since that date amounting to $8.25, or more than 33-1-3 per cent. The last time hogs sold below $15 on the Bourbon Stockyards here was just prior to July 1, 1917. During the war and until this spring a minimum price of $16.50 per hundred pounds for the best hogs was enforced by the Food Administration's rulings.

The sudden decline of this week has served to bring in greater receipts to the local market, and this heavier movement itself is an important factor in the continued weakness. The fact that the farmers now are striving to avail themselves of the top prices prevailing has served to restrain demand.

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN LITERATURE CLASSES DEBATE AT COLLEGE

Quite an interesting Debate was held at the College Auditorium here last Thursday night between the English and American Literature classes. The question for Debate was, Resolved, that Webster was a greater man than Gladstone. The affirmative was taken by Herbert Porter, Hulbert Crowder and Dick Williamson, and on the Negative side were Ed Hoover, Maurice Barrass and Robert Carson. Some splendid arguments were produced by both sides but the Judges, Mrs. C. B. Carden and Mr. E. S. Howard, declared the Negative side the winner. Quite a crowd was present to hear the Debate.

HAS BIG CORN CROP

Plati County, which lies next to and directly west of Champlain County, in the heart of the Illinois corn belt, has a big crop of corn ready for husking. The crop will be around 5,000,000 bushels, at least half of which will be husked by men coming in from southern Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky. It will take around 1500 men from outside of the county to handle this crop. The price to be paid corn huskers this year is 6c per bushel and board.

This means that these men will take back with them around $150,000.00.

Men will find plenty of work in the vicinity of the following towns of the county: Bement, Cerro Gordo, Clisco, Mansfield, Monicello, Hammond or Atwood.

Husking will be started about October 20th.

FIRE IN TOWN.

The Coal House belonging to Mr. A. J. Williams caught fire early Friday morning and was burned down. There was about 150 bushels of slack in the house. Hartford's entire Bucket Brigade responded nobly to the clang of the fire bells but the fire had too much start and the house was destroyed. It is presumed the fire started by Spontaneous Combustion.

INDEPENDENCE

Rev. M. G. Snell filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday. There was a large crowd present and a fine interest manifested for the beginning of a series of meetings. Brother Howerton will assist Brother Snell in the meeting. We are praying for a great revival this time.

COURT HOUSE WEDDING

Mr. Emmett Ferguson, age 23, and Miss Lizzie Vandiver, age 23, both of Neafus, Ky., were united in the Holy bonds of matrimony at the court house here last Wednesday by Judge Cook. The couple will make their home in Ill.

Future of The Red Cross

Synopsis of talk by T. L. Karn, Field Representative American Red Cross at M. E. church here:

There are a great many questions with regard to the future program of the Red Cross which no one could answer, at the same time the people have a right to know just how far the Central organization is thinking and how far it has carried the responsibility with which it is charged.

The first problem that presented itself was the problem of transition from a war time to a peace time basis. Should the Red Cross carry through its war time program and when that was finished hold itself ready only to deal with emergencies, or should this energy be turned into channels of peace and try to adjust some of the problems which present themselves in time of peace? The Central Committee decided that it was entirely inconceivable that this great American Army (20 millions strong) should either be scrapped or demobilized, but rather that its energies should be turned into peace channels. There seems to be no question as to the wisdom of this decision.

The Red Cross is still the Red Cross, and will always hold itself ready as an emergency organization in time of disaster, but what is it to do in other fields of peace? To deal with these questions we have to first in a way reverse our general state of mind. In time of war we could not stop to think or consider individual opinions from different parts of the country. In order to act efficiently, there had to be certain orders given. These orders had to be carried out, and if any one didn't like the orders he had to either keep still or get out. Now under the peace program the situation is entirely changed. The first thing you want to get into your minds is this; that if the Red Cross is to continue in the United States of America, then the Red Cross must necessarily be democratic. It must no longer be an autocratic machine, in which an order is given in Washington, passed through the hand of the Division office and on to the Chapters. There must of course be certain broad principles of action, which can only be determined by a body which is charged with responsibility. There must and will be certain principles which will be laid down as Red Cross principles. The activities of the chapters within these general limits must be determined by the chapters themselves. It is impossible for any body of men to sit in Washington or Cleveland or anywhere else, and say: "This is the program which is to be carried out in every town and county and chapter in the United States." What is wise for one chapter may be very unwise for another, and the only people who can determine what is wise for that community are the people of that community themselves. This does not mean, however, that you can do everything, any way you desire. That Red Cross emblem is copyrighted by special act of Congress and you will not be permitted to misuse or abuse that emblem, whatever work you do under that emblem must be done in the name of the Red Cross and come up to Red Cross standards and specifications.

You may sometimes find it necessary to ask advice. It is not always necessary to take the advice. That chapter organization in each community will to a great extent be the architect and builder of its own Red Cross activities.

One of the great problems which the Red Cross is undertaking in the United States under the peace program is the community problem. Certain phases of this work present themselves as being particularly adapted for Red Cross work. The great field of physical welfare of the people—preventing preventable diseases, infant mortality, illness and loss of children of school age due to ignorance, or failure to apply for knowledge which could be obtained.

The ultimate responsibility for the health of a community is an official responsibility, but it must be a private responsibility until officials are brought to realize that it is their responsibility, and this will require a long course of education of public opinion.

If our committees and officials are left to follow lines of least resistance in this matter generations hence will find conditions as they are today. This is where the Red Cross can become an important factor by practical demonstration. Educate public opinion to want and demand better living conditions. There has never before in the history of the world been an organization so thoroughly fitted to undertake and carry forward this great work. With its thousands of chapters and millions of members there can quickly be gathered an audience for such educational work as has never been seen.

In determining your chapter needs, be governed by the requirements of your local conditions.

Are there agencies already in existence, official, unofficial or private, with which the Red Cross can co-operate? The Red Cross should be a co-operative medium, rather than operative; because it is big and powerful it should not say "We will take over all these activities and proceed to do them." It would be absurd to do this, but it would be legitimate to assist in building them up and carry on the work until better agencies can take them over. The Red Cross can and will then withdraw from that locality.

The first step taken by the Central Committee in formulating a definite post-war program was to issue a plan to continue an expand the nursing service, especially in two directions: Home Nursing and the education of families in fundamental problems, and secondly, Public Health Nursing particularly in those counties where official Public Health activity is undeveloped. Both these plans are to be operated through the chapters. Meanwhile the Red Cross itself is continually developing new plans of extension in this field.

Home Service is to continue on a definite program of assistance to fighting men and their families, and of extension to others according to the need is discovered, especially in communities where there is no organized welfare work. This Department of Red Cross has multiplied, many fold, the trained social workers of the country and has made to the United States an invaluable contribution in social preparedness.

First Aid instruction, somewhat interrupted by war activities, is being renewed. Headquarters is prepared to supply all necessary instructions and guidance, and chapters can form First Aid classes in schools, clubs, industrial centers, mines and factories.

Completing the definite formulated plans for the future is the Junior Red Cross program. The Junior organization was the answer made to the spontaneous demands of the school children of the country for a plan whereby they too might help their country in its war needs. They are now asking for a continuance of organized activity. This organization exists for service and education, to inculcate ideals and habits of service, to provide motives for purposeful relief to suffering children throughout the world, and to develop international understanding and good will.

Intelligent education, in the future must emphasize service to others following the awakened public consciousness that nations can not live isolated lives, can not avoid obligations imposed by the claims of common humanity. The Junior Red Cross is like the League of Red Cross Societies in this, that it too hears the voice of the future and discerns the paths along which the generations of the future will certainly travel.

Such are some of the plans which the American Red Cross has for the future, to which other plans will be added and many details developed.

Membership.

For the purpose of translating the Red Cross vision into reality, people are more necessary than money, and the Red Cross during the war revealed an unexampled capacity for drawing people into combined service. The people responded because they were patriotic. The present summons to membership is still a call to patriotism which remains dormant until the bugle blows for war. He who intelligently loves his country in war will persistently love it in peace. If a country is worth dying for, it is worth living for.

The master-problem of civilization is to engage as many people with as much enthusiasm in upbuilding processes of peace as, by the traditions of the ages, it has always been possible to enlist in the destructive adventure of war. When people shall have learned to sacrifice themselves as readily on the altar of the common weal as they sacrifice themselves on the altars of war, the world will be saved, and not then.

Miss Mary E. Meehan, of Louisville, arrived here last Monday for the purpose of instructing classes in Home Hygiene and care of the sick. She came at the request of the Ohio county chapter of the American Red Cross and will teach, during the next few weeks, at Hartford, Beaver Dam, Dundee, Narrows, Centertown, Melleny, Fordsville and other towns of the county.

Miss Meehan is a graduate of the Fordsville and other towns of the graduate of the Bellevue Hospital, New York City. After graduating, she was for a year, instructor in Surgery and Hygiene in Louisville City Hospital, but after our entrance in the World War she entered the army and served one and a half years as an army nurse, one year of which was overseas duty.

COURTHOUSE WEDDING.

Mr. Planters C. Hoeker and Miss Cecil Myers were married at the Court House here, by Rev. Watt Smith, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Earl N. Swan and wife, of Oklahoma, are stopping at the New Commercial Hotel. Mr. Swan is an oil operator and has just taken over from W. H. Balze, of Hartford, a considerable acreage of oil and gas leases near here. He has also purchased what are known as the Carter leases which contain two producing wells. Mr. Swan will likely begin developing in the near future.

U. S. PROBES ACTIVITY OF 200 FINX RADICALS

A Federal agent today began an investigation of alleged radical activities of 200 or more Finns who were deported from Welton Tuesday by police and deputies.

Local authorities turned over to the Government representative 700 red flags and some literature in the Finnist movement seized.

The literature will be translated and if it is shown that the Finns are connected with any radical movement of an extreme nature, called upon to deal with the case, the State of West Virginia will be the Federal agent stated.

HARTFORD COLLEGE NOTES.

By a Pupil.

Up to the present time, there have been approximately one hundred pupils enrolled in the High School. Every one of them seems to be taking a deep, and responsive interest in their work. Seemingly they are all ready at any time to do anything that will help build up the name of the school, and this is indeed a most desirable spirit, not only in a High School, but in any other similar organization.

All four of the classes have now organized, each having a president, secretary and treasurer. The purpose of these organizations is that when there is business of interest to the class to be conducted, the class president may call a meeting of the class where the affairs may be conducted in a business like manner. This would be almost impossible unless the class was organized. Each class also has its own mottoes, yells, class colors, and pennants. It is generally known that an unorganized class never shows as much enthusiasm as one that has been organized.

The Junior Red Cross has again been organized this year. Every class reports a full, and complete membership, with a class collection over the scheduled amount.

The girls of the newly organized Domestic Science class are progressing nicely with their work, under the personal supervision of Miss Bell Walker, who is indeed a very capable teacher.

More interest is being taken in athletics this year than ever before. The girls as well as the boys, are participating in the basket ball practice, and we hope soon to be able to look both teams, in a match game with some of the other High Schools of our County.

There are rumors out now that Hartford High School is soon to boast a five-piece orchestra, which will furnish music for the class socials, and other special occasions.

Wednesday, October 1, from 2:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m. was given over to the rendering of the flag day program which had previously been arranged by Supt. J. F. Bruner, and was successfully carried out on this date. Following are the patrons that took part in the program: First Prof. Hill made a very interesting talk on the origin, and construction of the different American Flags, up to our present one, after which Reverend Russell Walker conducted the devotional exercises. Next was a very eloquent patriotic address made by Judge J. S. Glenn, Mrs. J. R. Pirtle, representing the Parent-Teacher's Association, presented the flag in a very pleasing manner, after which Supt. J. F. Bruner, in behalf of the entire school, responded to the presentation with a short talk of acceptance.

This having completed that part of the program which was to take place in the interior of the building, the entire school marched in a body down on the campus in front of the building. The flag was then raised by Edward Hoover, who was formerly a machine-gunner in the U. S. Army, but is now a student of this place. As the flag was being raised, the crowd cheered vigorously until it reached its proper position. Each one of the pupils then renewed their pledge to the flag. The singing of the Star Spangled Banner concluded the program.

Quite a number of the patrons were out to witness the flag raising, and seemed to have enjoyed it.

We take this method of expressing our thanks for the good work the Parent-Teacher's Association is doing to improve our school in general. We want especially to thank them for the very beautiful flag which they have just presented, and to assure them that the many things they are doing for our good and pleasure are being appreciated very much by us—the pupils.

SEEK GOLD IN THE ARCTIC

Adventurers Are Now Prospecting the Coasts of Baffin Bay and Davis Strait.

One of the really pathetic stories of modern history is the mutiny of Henry Hudson's crew when he was exploring the arctic waters of North America, and his abandonment, with his son, in that vast inland sea that bears his name, a writer in the Brooklyn Eagle remarks. Many lives have been sacrificed in the quest of the North and South poles. Sir John Franklin's and the Jennette's parties in the north and the recent Scott expedition at the south only need be mentioned.

Plans are afoot to open up the Baffin bay region to commerce. For many years small steamers have been making summer visits to Hudson bay to trade with the natives, and the Canadian government is building a railway to one of its ports. Railroad and commercial development of Alaska by American enterprise has caused prospecting of the mineral resources of the coasts of Baffin bay and Davis strait, with the result of finding, at the former place, gold in sufficient quantities to justify development, and coal of excellent quality along the latter. The latitude is about the same as that of the Yukon region and only a few degrees north of that of Nome, which has developed into a large community. So impelling is the lure of gold that the hardships of an arctic climate will not deter adventurers from hazarding their lives against the wealth said to be buried under the eternal snow and ice of Baffin island.

CHAUNCEY'S TURN TO LAUGH

Close-Fisted Farmer Learned Something About the Value Legal Lights Set on Services.

Chauncey M. Depew, in writing the story of his life, recalls his first law case. It was in Brookskill. The client was a farmer and he wanted an opinion on certain property rights.

Depew spent a week in looking up the points of law that had bearing on the case and when he had finished charged the modest fee of $5.

"Too much," cried the farmer.

"But it's taken me a whole week to prepare this," protested Depew.

"Don't make no difference," declared the farmer. "I figure $1.50 is all it's worth and that's all you're going to get."

About a week later the man came to the office again.

"Mr. Depew," he said, "I had some doubts about that opinion of yours, so I took it down to New York and showed it to Mr. —. And what do you think he charged me, just for readin' that opinion of yours and puttin' his O. K. on it?"

"How much," demanded Depew, all excited.

"Five hundred dollars!"

Canada's Bird Refuge.

It is something for one bird to tell another that Canada has created a series of reserves in the province of Quebec where birds are safe from man-made troubles.

Unlike most bird refuges, Pever Rock, a picturesque island near Pever village; the east and north cliffs of Bonaventure island, three miles further away; and the northernmost of the Magdalen islands, 124 miles out to sea, have been set apart specifically to protect birds whose value to mankind is chiefly their beauty as a part of nature.

There is no attempt to argue, for example, that the gunnet, the kittiwake, or the razorbill auk should be protected because they "help the farmer"; they are protected simply because they are birds.

No human being may steal an egg from their nests; no weapon dangerous to their welfare may be brought within a mile of their island sanctuaries.

Naturally all other birds are equally safe, and the refuges will be a help toward carrying out the purpose of the international treaty for bird protection.

Yellowstone Park Growth.

Yellowstone national park is expected to grow 1,265 square miles larger as soon as the present congress reaches a bill neglected by the last session. The proposed extension, 30 miles to the south of the established boundary, as described in Popular Mechanics magazine, takes in Jackson lake and the wonderful mountain scenery about it, part of the famous Jackson's Hole country.

Besides providing the only variety of scenic beauty now lacking in the park, the addition includes the summer grazing ground of America's last large herd of elk, and some of the finest trout-fishing water in the country.

Fish Had False Teeth.

A fish wearing false teeth was hooked in the Gulf of Mexico, near Indian Rocks, Fla., by A. L. Anderson of Independence.

Judge Anderson was invited to go out in a boat with H. H. Ingersoll, a well known resident of Indian Rocks. During the day they brought up a specimen of the "sveel toad" or burfish variety.

As the hook was pulled out it brought with it a front plate with four false teeth attached to a gold bridge.

Later it was learned by the astonished fishermen that a few days before a visitor from Oldsmar, a nearby resort, had dropped his teeth while bathing.—Kansas City Star.

WELCOMED AS RIGHT SORT

Newcomer's Record Made Him Eligible to Inner Circles of Indiana's Big Penitentiary.

Frank P. Litschert, secretary to Governor Goodrich, spent several days at the state prison, Michigan City, recently, and being fortunate enough to get out again is telling the following yarn:

Warden Fogarty of the prison likes to make as easy as he can the hard lot of the prisoners, and has arranged for ball games at intervals within the prison walls. Convicts form the teams, and while there is some difficulty in getting one to act as umpire, the games usually are pulled off in good style.

A visitor from South Bend was at the prison one day when a game was scheduled, and being a former ball player it was suggested that he put on the prison uniform and get into the game "inoc" and put a little professional "pep" into it.

Eventually the "ringer" was all fitted out and was placed in the lot. He was sitting on the bench when a typical convict "hard guy" swaggered up to him and sympathetically inquired: "Hello, hol' What ya in for?"

The outsider was nonplused, but recovering in a moment he replied:

"Oh, I beamed a guy."

"Did ya put 'im clean out?" again inquired the hard guy, with professional interest.

"Yep," said the ringer.

Whereupon the convict, fraternal to the core, gleefully commented:

"Atta boy!"—Indianapolis News.

HAVE NEW SENSE OF DUTY

America Probably Has Taught Much to French Women of the Highest Social Position.

They were handing out pots and pans to the returned refugees at Reims that day.

It was really a very gay occasion, says Blanche Bruce in World Outlook. The pots and pans made it so, in spite of the ghosts of dead homes (mere hollow shells of ruined houses) all around the shattered building where the distribution was being made, the broken cathedral over yonder, the miles of desolation everywhere. Sometimes the refugee women begged the cheap utensils to them and crowded over them as if they had been children; sometimes they wanted to pay a few centimes "rent" for them, so that they might feel the things were their own. These were not just pots and pans, but the promise of comfort and security again, the nucleus for new homes that should rise from the ruins.

A countess with sinched fingers, and half a dozen other French women of prestige, stood behind the counter and handed out the utensils. All at once a middle-aged, homely mere dropped her pan with a clatter.

"Mon Dieu!" she gasped, "is she a countess? And I fought with her for a bigger pot! And working so hard—what does it mean?"

What it meant was that France learned two new words from America during the war—social service.

Smallest Bank in the World.

There is a saying among country people that "the smaller the bank the safer the money," and therefore the Wake County Savings bank, at Raleigh, N. C., should be the safest bank in America, since it is the smallest.

Of course, it is a trifle larger than a sock and easier to get money out of than the tin banks or the china pigs of one's childhood, but it manages to gather in a very great deal of money in the minimum space.

As a matter of fact, originally the space occupied by the bank was a hallway into the building back of it. Some changes in the architecture of the place made the hallway unnecessary, and so the savings bank decided on an "office" there. Now it is a "regular bank" with an imposing entrance—and that is about all. Its frontage, to be exact, is 7½ feet.

"Bachelor of Commerce."

The plan of the University of London to grant degrees in commerce is attracting much attention. Under this scheme it is proposed to grant the degree of bachelor of commerce to candidates who pass the necessary examinations after a three years' course of study. Those who so desire may later proceed to the degree of master of commerce, after a minimum of two years' practical experience in the particular trade or industry taken up.

The first year's course comprises the compulsory subjects of organization of industry, banking, trade and transport; modern economic development of the British empire and of the chief foreign countries; elementary commercial law, and statistical method. The second and third year will be devoted to specialization.

Placing Himself.

Luther Burbank, like Thomas A. Edison, has had his brain incorporated and capitalized. He has done many wonderful things, one of the biggest being the perfecting of the spineless cactus, which is a great cattle food staple. Also to his credit are the Shasta daisy, the stoneless prune and the seedless grape. His patience is wonderful and they say that at one time he raised 50,000,000 lilies to get a single half-dozen that were perfect. "No wonder they call you the 'wizard' of California," remarked a Los Angeles reporter once. Burbank laughed, and replied: "They might better call me the gizzard of California."

Get More Work Out of Your Tractor by Using a Tractor Disc Harrow

Keep your tractor as busy as possible at work that pays. It suffers less depreciation when you use it than when you let it stand idle. It keeps on returning profit on your investment.

Besides using it when you plow, use it in disking before and after you plow. That makes a well-prepared seed bed—the kind that pays most.

Come to our store and let us show you the John Deere Pony Tractor Disc Harrow—a sure profit maker behind any standard tractor.

This is an exceptionally strong, light draft, flexible harrow. It has a separate lever for angling each gang so that all tendency of harrow to crowd to one side when working in hard and soft ground, or on hillsides, can be overcome.

Its third lever makes thorough pulverizing possible. With it you can raise or lower the inner ends of the gangs of the front section to make all the discs penetrate at equal depth the entire width of the harrow.

There are other features on this harrow which we would like to show you, such as double bargang frames, twice as strong as any single bar gang frame, all steel stub pole and adjustable spring steel scrapers. Be sure to ask us about these features.

Easier Now Than Later

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that hang on all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. L. W. Day, 65 Campbell Av., E. Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieves one of bronchitis very quickly. I hope never to have it again." This reliable family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc., contains no opiates. Children like it.

Feel Old?

Overwork, worry, anxiety or sorrow undermines strength and health. These causes contribute to kidney trouble, and weak or diseased kidneys make one feel old in middle age.

Foley Kidney Pills

help weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder so that the system is free from waste and poisonous matter that causes one to feel old, tired, languid. They banish backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints. Mrs. J. D. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For many years I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had a severe backache and felt miserable and all played out. I got to a place where I had to do something. After taking two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills I can say my backache is gone, and where I used to lay awake at night with rheumatic pains I can now sleep in comfort and enjoy a good night's rest."

CLINIC HAS PROVED WORTH

Organization Established by Boston Firm Well Worthy of Imitation by Other Employers.

A pioneer medical clinic, established 15 years ago to protect the health of 600 employees, and gradually enlarged and expanded until it now cares for a total of 2,700—that is the record proudly held today by a well-known Boston firm. At the time of its organization the medical director was in charge of the clinic in the capacity of director and visiting nurse. Now the clinic is in charge of a practicing physician and surgeon, assisted by three full-time graduate nurses.

During the influenza epidemic of last winter, over 350 employees were treated per day, with only six deaths during the entire course of the dreaded disease. All cases were given careful individual attention and, in instances where no family doctor was in attendance, immediate arrangements were made for medical care.

It is the policy of the firm in the clinic to advise all employees with whom they come in contact to be insured, an activity which the firm itself handles through an employees' organization. The purpose of such advice is to secure insurance for all employees in order that they may receive its benefits after one week's illness. This arrangement does not place a premium upon the employees' being ill, and at the same time the clinic cooperates in the matter of insurance.

A dental clinic is in a formative state and, no doubt, will be established in a short time. The plan and method of administration and organization is simply in the making, but it is safe to say that the dental clinic will be as efficient as the medical clinic.

The Modern Hospital, in describing the clinic, says that it has fully proved its value in protecting the health of the employees of this particular company and merits the commendation and imitation of other mercantile and industrial establishments.

WILSON'S WORDS CLEAR UP DOUBT

CALIFORNIA THROWS OVER ITS LEADER, JOHNSON, AND RALLIES TO LEAGUE.

WEST GIVES HIM OVATION

All Doubtful Features of Pact Are Explained Away By President, and Former Doubters Hasten to Give Him Their Support.

(By Independent News Bureau, formerly Mt. Clemens News Bureau.)

Aboard President Wilson's Special Train—A continuous ovation along the Pacific coast and then on his eastward way back toward the capital was given to President Wilson as he came toward the end of his month daylong speaking tour in behalf of the League of Nations. California, particularly the delightful city of Los Angeles, went wild in its enthusiasm for him and his advocacy of the League, and it was in that state, perhaps, that he did his most successful missionary work. Hiram Johnson, California's former governor, now her United States senator, and considered by her as the most likely Republican candidate for the presidency in 1920, had before the arrival of President Wilson, convinced a great number of citizens that the League as at present formulated was not a good thing. He had told them that the United States, because of it, would be drawn into every petty European quarrel; he argued that we would lose our sovereignty by joining with the European nations. He had blamed the president for assenting to the possession by Japan of the Peninsula of Shan Tung in China.

BUREAU CHANGES NAME

The Mount Clemens News Bureau, which has been furnishing reports on President Wilson's tour in behalf of the League of Nations to 5,500 papers, has adopted a new name and will hereafter be known as The Independent News Bureau.

But Mr. Wilson, with clear logic and with compelling eloquence, answered to the entire satisfaction of California's people every objection which Senator Johnson had made to the League. And thousands of the state's citizens deserted the Johnson standard immediately and rallied to the support of the president. More than that, they came forward and said, "We were against you, Mr. President, but you have cleared everything up and now we are with you heart and soul." Still more than that, they let Senator Johnson know that they were no longer with him and that they disapproved of the speaking tour which he himself was making in opposition to the League and so powerful was the volume of public opinion which reached him, that the senator almost immediately abandoned his tour. The Shan Tung question, because of the anti-Japanese feeling which undoubtedly exists along the Pacific coast was the most serious which the president had to answer. He explained to the people that he had been powerless to prevent the rich peninsula from being given to Japan. England and France, through a secret treaty, had promised it to Japan for entering the war and remaining in it. That treaty had to be carried out. Anyway it was not China that was losing Shan Tung, but Germany, which had seized the territory from China in 1918 and held it ever since. Japan had promised, the president explained, to return Shan Tung as soon as the peace treaty was ratified and it was only through the ratification of the treaty with the League of Nations inclusion, that China could ever expect to get her former property back. And she surely would get it back, he declared, through the ratification of the League. Therefore, through the same instrumentality no other nation could again prey upon the "Great, patient, diligent, but helpless kingdom." As to our being drawn into any European conflict. The president pointed out that no direct action such as the sending of troops to any part of the world to maintain or restore order could be taken by the Council of the League without a unanimous vote of the council members, therefore our vote could at once negative any such proposition as sending our soldiers where we did not want them sent. Besides, Mr. Wilson argued, "If you have to quench a fire in California you don't send for the fire department of Utah." But, he argued, there probably never will be another war, if the League is established, for the members promise either to arbitrate their difference and accept the decision of the arbitrator, lay the differences for discussion and publication before the Council of the League for a period of six months, and then, if possible, accept the council's advice. That failing, they agree to refrain from war for a further period of three months and nine months of "cooling off." The president contended, would prevent any armed conflict. These clear explanations satisfied every reasonable hearer and destroyed the "Bugaboos" which Senator Johnson and others had raised against the League. Through rugged Nevada into Utah, the land of Mormons, the president swept to find that those fine people were heartily with him for the League and a permanent peace.

HOPE RENEWED THAT MILLIONS LOST IN TREASURE SHIPS MAY BE BROUGHT TO THE SURFACE.

Somewhere in the sea off the coast of Zealand lies the ship Dorothea, which went down on Tenedos reef, carrying with her, so some people believe, part of the fortune of Com Paul Kruger, once president of the Transvaal, and rumor has it that plans are afoot to fit out a British expedition in the hope of salvaging her. The war has improved methods of salvaging sunken ships, and if the Dorothea really carried it, the gold counted into the hold of the vessel has been estimated at over $3,000,000. Before the war a syndicate was organized to attempt recovery of the vessel, and unsuccessful efforts were made to locate her; now the project is again possible—perhaps all the more so, because time has accumulated so many treasure ships which are again under discussion. A list recently published includes: The Grosvenor, lost on the Pendolund coast, with $8,750,000; the Arlston, in Margas bay, with $4,000,000; the Birkenhead, on Birkenhead reef, with $3,000,000; the Dorothea, on Tenedos reef, with $3,250,000; the Abercrombie, with $900,000; the Mercator, with $700,000, and the Thunderbolt, with $2,750,000. If a sunken treasure enterprise fails of one treasure ship, perhaps it can find another. So far, however, the sea has proved a miser with the gold it has acquired; many the modern improvements in salvaging equipment change the habit.

BOOKMARKS OF EVERY KIND

Strip of Bacon About the Most Unique That Des Moines Librarian Has Yet Found.

The most startling marker that Forest B. Spaulding, public librarian of Des Moines, Iowa, has come across in the books that have circulated from the library was a strip of underdone bacon. The most ordinary bookmark found in the books is the common variety of wire hairpin. Hairpins might be collected by the hundreds, Mr. Spaulding says, but owing to that very fact they are considered as fairly worthless from the collector's standpoint.

The vacation season is announced annually by the presence of snapshots in the returned books. These are both personal or otherwise in character. Postcards and letters, too, come in often. Frequently letters addressed and stamped are found just as they were left by the book borrower who doubtless was proceeding postofficeward by way of the library. These are mailed from the library.

Mr. Spaulding has noticed any number of pretty girls sitting on the beach at Riverview Park with books, and he has been looking forward all summer to recovering a bathing suit absent mindedly left by one of the young ladies in her book.

A Boy Just the Same.

Little curly-headed, four-year-old Joe had often been mistaken for a girl by reason of those same beautiful curls, but it was a very sore point with him. He came very near, however, turning it to advantage one afternoon when his six-year-old sister was giving a birthday party "for girls only."

Poor little Joe wandered around the refreshments spread on the grass, gazing wistfully at the cookies and lemonade which his sister was serving to her little girl guests.

"No, Joe, this party is only for little girls, and no boys can come." Then poor little Joe turned past mumps into an argument that would admit him, and wailed out, "Well, sister, I ain't much of a boy, anyway."

Sam Had His Fee.

Sam was on trial, charged with stealing ten dollars. He pleaded not guilty. Being unable to hire a lawyer, the judge appointed young Clarke as counsel. Clarke put up a strong plea in defense, and Sam was acquitted. Afterward the pair met outside the courtroom.

"Now, Sam," said the young lawyer, "you know the court allows the counsel very little indeed for defending a case of this kind. I worked hard for you and got you clear. I'm really entitled to a good big fee and you should dig up some money and pay me. Have you got any money at all?"

"Yes, sah," replied Sam, happily, "I still done got dat ten dollars."

Indisputable Proof.

A druggist was boasting in the company of his friends of his well-assorted stock in trade. "There isn't a drug missing," he said; "not even of the most uncommon sort."

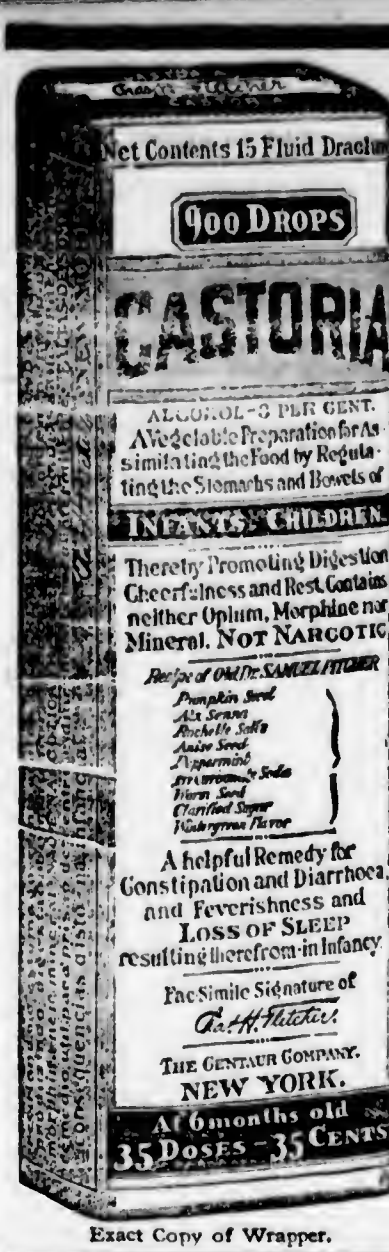

"Come now," said one of the bystanders, by way of a joke, "I'm sure you don't keep spirits of contradiction, as well stocked as you are."

"Why not?" said the druggist, not in the least embarrassed. "You shall see for yourself." So saying he left the room and returned leading his wife by the hand.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Horses Still Numerous.

Despite the large number of motor cars and trucks made in America, horses and mules seem to be holding their own, according to a recent trade statement.

Although 7,700,000 automobiles have been produced in the United States since 1891, half of which were manufactured since 1915, there are now 21,340,000 horses and 4,925,000 mules in the country with a total value of $2,200,000,000.

427 years ago Sunday, Columbus discovered America and 1 year ago Germany rediscovered America, but in a manner vastly different from that of the Italian navigator.

The Davless county grand jury is investigating the H. C. L. It would be well if an investigation were made in every county, for if there is hoarding or profiteering it should be brought to light.

The French Senate has ratified the peace treaty by a vote of 217 to 60, and Great Britain has long since completed the ratification, but the U. S. Senate will likely be wrangling over it this time next year.

The slogan of Kentucky Republicans has always been vote for the man. Why not apply this in the coming election. Nobody ever saw Gov. Black in a bar-room, or engaging in a poker game; nobody ever saw him break a law of the commonwealth or heard of his doing so; nobody ever heard him swear an oath or knew him to fail to pay a debt. Then, why not vote for Black and elect a real man.

William C. Shinnick, one of the ablest of the younger writers of news in Kentucky, who has been following Edwin P. Morrow on his speaking tour, says that he is firmly convinced that the independent voters of the state are for Gov. Black and that there is no dissatisfaction with the administration where he has been. Still Democrats should take nothing for granted when we have the opportunity of electing a man of such clean character and noble purpose as Gov. Black.

The Hartford High School Basketball Team of boys which has been organized is practicing very hard and expect to have an expert team. They are being coached by Maurice Barrass who is a splendid coach. The team averages 140 lbs. and will be ready for games after Oct. 24th. For information about games write to M. M. Barrass. The Athletic spirit is entering into all school work this year and is having a decided influence on the pupils. This spirit should be kept up, as it helps to hold the pupils in school.

The Fire Marshall's office is one of the most useful to the citizens of any office in the state. The reduction in the number of fires by rigid inspection and insistence on compliance with the laws has resulted in the saving of millions of dollars worth of property and many human lives. Besides as a result of inspection, the insurance on property has been reduced and the State thousands of dollars. Fire prevention self has saved in insurance thousands has been taught through bulletins.

The office has issued and served in the past four years more than 10,000 orders to owners of property relating to the elimination of fire hazard. Yet, the Republican candidates would have you believe the work of this office all to no avail.

By oversight, the Herald this week permitted an advertisement containing misstatements and sent out by Republican headquarters to be published. It is against the policy of this paper to publish misrepresentations even though paid for at the usual rate for advertising and we denounce Morrow's charge of Democratic extravagance as false from the core.

He has been asked time and again by Gov. Black, to tell the people just what offices he would dispense with, if elected governor and thus far has failed to do so.

He tells the people that the State Fire Marshall's office and the Insurance Rating Board costs them a huge sum of money each year, when in fact neither of them cost the people a penny. The salaries and expenses of both offices are paid from fees collected from the insurance companies, and even if the insurance companies charged the policy holders in the end, it would amount to but about 2 cents per policy holder. Contrary to Morrow's statements, Gov. Black's hands are not tied in any way and his entire public service has proven him clean, capable and efficient.

CAPT. WILLIAM E. BENNETT.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 13.—Capt. William E. Bennett, born in Ohio county, died early this morning at his home in this city following an illness that began last night. Capt. Bennett was a retired army officer, having seen distinguished honors in the Spanish American war. He has one son, Frank E. Bennett, of Harboursville, and is survived by his wife and three boys. He was a cousin of Alvis S. Bennett, of Louisville, secretary of the Republican State Central Committee. Capt. Bennett recently made his will placing all of his affairs in hands of Alvis Bennett.—Owensboro Messenger.

Capt. Bennett was well known here and was a brother to Mr. Ramsey Duke, who left for Owensboro Monday morning.

SPLENDID SHOW AT BEAVER DAM ALL LAST WEEK.

The Heffner-Vinson Stock Company, which played at Beaver Dam last week, presented some of America's best plays in a manner that attracted a large audience every night they were in town. The usual run of Stock Companies that play in the small towns are very poor but this was equal to some of the shows we would pay five times the price to see on the stage of large city theatres.

The diamond ring offered to the most popular young lady, was won by Miss Lizzie Peters, of Beaver Dam. Her closest rival was Miss Agnes Williams.

OHIO COUNTY SCHOOL FAIR TO BE HELD AT FORDSVILLE

The Ohio county school fair will be held at Fordsville, next Saturday, October 28. No fair was held last year because of the flu epidemic, so the committee would like for this to be doubly successful. Some very attractive premiums are offered in the various lines of school work. Every school in the county is expected to compete in these contests. Some of Kentucky's leading educators are expected to be present.

MARTIN—WILSON.

"Mother bought her Princess 20 years ago."

"It gave her so many years of faithful service that when John and I were married, her first gift to me was a new"

ALLEN'S PRINCESS RANGE

"And mine is a beauty. Besides having the same reliable baking qualities and fuel saving features as mother's, it has many new conveniences that weren't heard of then."

"For instance my new Princess has two large cabinets (instead of shelves) which provide a handy place in which to warm the dishes and set things. The 10-gallon direct-heating copper reservoir joins the fire box, giving an abundance of instant hot water. Pipe behind warming closet gives greatest comfort—more cooking surface. In fact I just couldn't cook without my Princess."

These Ranges are on special display in our store. Call and see them.

SHOWED SPIRIT OF AMERICA

Connecticut Youth Good Example of the Man That Made Victory Over the Hun Certain.

What was the spirit, French, British, Italian, American, that made possible the day of the signing of peace? Well, as for the American spirit, a story, which Clarence Edwards told me at St. Mihiel, has the meaning as I felt it, writes Lucian Swift Kirtland in Leslie's. He was visiting the hospital. Just as he was leaving a nurse ran after him. "A Connecticut boy," she said, "has heard you are here. He has begged me to ask you to see him. He's dying, but he doesn't know it. He says he has a great favor to ask." Just then the chaplain came and had the same request. They hurried back, the chaplain leading. The boy looked up and saw the chaplain.

"My God! Chaplain," he called out, "what are you looking so darn glum about? Just 'cause you think I'm going to die and you don't know how to tell me about it? If—, what did I come over here for? Didn't I come over here to die if that had to be the chance? Haven't I had my chance? Have I failed? What the hell are you worrying about?"

Just then he saw the general. "Oh, General," he said, "excuse me for bothering you, but I'm dying. I know it. I don't want to ask for favors, but the Connecticut band is here, and I thought I'd ask you if you'd have them come and play just once outside here. I want to hear the 'Connecticut State March' just once more."

In a minute the band was there—and it was playing the strains of the march. The lad lifted himself up, a smile of satisfaction on his face. His arm beat the time of the music. He pretended to be leading the band. At the last note he dropped back to his pillow—dead.

OLD HOUSE TO BE MUSEUM

Movement for Preservation of Structure Identified With Early Days of Southern California.

A movement is on at Riverside, Cal., for the preservation of a number of the old landmarks of the vicinity, buildings and spots intimately connected with the early-day period of southern California. The plan is being fostered by the local chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution and the Pioneer society.

The first project to be undertaken is the restoration of the old Rubidoux home, an adobe structure, which was built by Indian labor three-quarters of a century ago. The Rubidoux family was one of the most prominent of the early Spanish residents, and the home was a social center for the interior section. Many of the notable events of history of the period just previous to the forty-niners are more or less intimately connected with this old building which in recent years has been abandoned and has begun to crumble away.

After the work of restoration is completed, the building will serve as a nucleus for a pioneer museum for the housing of many relics of the early days.

Mediterranean Air Base.

A far-reaching program of aviation in the French colonial possessions in Africa has been drawn up by the commission on aerial transports at Tunis, Algeria, which recommends that a great aerial transport center be established, with Tunis as its base, in order to centralize aerial traffic over the Mediterranean sea. Inasmuch as Tunis occupies an advantageous position, at the junction of French and international colonial possessions, a regular aerial service, it is urged, between Tunis and outlying districts would benefit the French protectorate. Already a line of airplanes is in operation between Gher, an Algerian seaport, and the frontier of Tripoli; and this, in the expectation of colonial officials, will be extended to Tunis. So the "unchanging East" is fast becoming a by-word only of times past.

Flax in the War.

With restoration of the industry on a peace-time basis cotton once again goes ahead of linen in the world's favor. The exigencies of the recent conflict raised flax to the position as leader among fabrics, a rank which it had held for centuries but lost almost simultaneously with the advent of the cotton gin.

With realization of the importance of cotton in the making of munitions, there came a speedy reversion to linen for the more commonplace uses—waistcoats, sails for ships, even "wings" for airplanes having lately consisted of linen. But flax has reached the end of its days of monopoly. King Cotton now rises to the fore in ordinary pursuits, and linen once again becomes the aristocrat in this field of supply.

Modern Radio Methods.

In these days of the radio compass and instant wireless communication, a ship at sea is in little danger of losing its way, says Popular Mechanics magazine. Recently the Louisville Bridge lost its bearings in a heavy fog off the coast of New Jersey, and was unable to find Ambrose channel into New York harbor. The operator called the navy yard, and within five minutes received the answer: "Your true bearing at 4:43 p. m. from Rockaway beach two hundred ten, Sandy Hook sixty-seven, Montauk fifteen." The auto tourist asking the best route to town could hope for no more definite information than that.

WHY TAXES ARE HIGH IN KENTUCKY

In the past eight years in Kentucky, 314 new officeholders have been given jobs at an increased cost to you taxpayers of $226,949.00 a year. That is $43,915.00 a month or over $1,466.00 every day including Sundays.

The fire marshal's office costs you taxpayers twice as much under Stanley as under Wilson (Republican). In the Agricultural Department May Cohen's personal traveling expenses for railroad fares, Pullmans, dollar meals, taxis, etc., were $4,153.00 for three years. Salaries in Superintendent Gilbert's department of schools are three times what they were under Wilson (Republican).

Increase in Job Holders and Extravagance of Those Already in Office the Cause of Increased Taxes

Leading Democrats say there is no hope of better things under Governor Black.

Justice Carroll said: "The people want a house cleaning at Frankfort. They want to see some new men in the offices and departments. They want to get rid of the names that have become familiar only because of long tenure of office. I again repeat and the Democrats of the State know it, that the officeholders have taken possession of him and he has taken possession of them. There is scarcely a county in the State in which they are not lending every effort to secure his nomination. IF HE IS GOVERNOR THERE CAN NOT BE AND WILL NOT BE ANY BUSINESS REFORMS OR CUTTING DOWN OF UNNECESSARY EXPENSES OR CUTTING OFF OF USELESS OFFICERS OR EMPLOYEES."

Miss M. Logan, former Attorney General, said: "Before he became Governor the officeholders under the present administration put a ring in his nose and have been leading him around ever since."

Democratic Papers Denounce Stanley Administration

The Louisville Post (Dem.) said: "The whole state is clamoring for a man who will 'clean house,' but Mr. Black leaves the house as it is. He has had a great opportunity and he has failed signally and before the whole state to take advantage of it. He is—speak plainly—a cautious, timid man, who works lazily for the sake of the office. Under him things would be largely as they are."

The Louisville Courier Journal (Dem.) said: "If he is a strong, able and effective man he will set about at once to cure defects which have blemished the administration of his predecessor. He will make special effort to destroy suspicions and rumors which are at large to the effect that he has entered into an alliance or understanding with Senator Stanley and the latter's personal adherents by which he is committed to an amiable attitude toward the Stanley record."

KENTUCKY IN THE HOLE

The United States Census Bureau at Washington has just issued a report, "Financial Statistics of States" for 1918 which says that 30 of the 48 States paid all expenses, including interest and money for permanent improvements. Kentucky was not one of the 30. This report also says that Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia not only paid expenses but were a million dollars to the good. Kentucky, within a stone's throw of all of them did not even pay expenses.

EMISSARY OF SATAN SPEAKS

Sworn Foe of Industrial Content, the Rumor Monger, Glories in Fomenting Social Unrest.

I am the Rumor Monger.

Borne on the winds of Hades from the halls of his Satanic Majesty, I wander among you credulous mortals and spread dissension.

Suspicion and envy are my bodyguards, and I am the sworn enemy of Industrial Content.

From North to South, and from East to West, I carry my whisperings to the ears of the workers, and I revel in hellish delight in the social unrest that I bring about.

I am the devoted follower of Ananias, and oh, how I hate the Truth! I delight in fanning the red flames of Anarchy with the seeds of Malcontent.

My propaganda is conceived in restless minds and given shape and life by fertile imaginations. Veracity and facts are strangers to me, and I seek only the ears of the impressionable sons of Adam. Sometimes I almost blush at the ease with which I arouse their suspicions through my airy vaporings, and I am forced to admit that a thrill of pride runs through me from the tips of my pointed ears to the end of my tail.

Whenever I begin operations production immediately slackens, for my imparts are indefatigable in their efforts to obstruct.

After the first injection of my serum willing muscles lose their pep, and a frown replaces the smile of contentment.

My campaign thus far in the world has been fairly successful, and if the workers who are possessed with common sense and wisdom do not expose my methods I expect to be decorated upon my return with the Medal of Dissension and Legion of Untruth by His Satanic Majesty, the King of Hades, the last ruling survivor of the House of Beelzebub.—Speed Up, the magazine of the Submarine Boat corporation, Newark shipyard.

To Prevent Beriberi.

Two thousand physicians assembled at the Imperial university in Kyoto recently to hear Dr. Shimusono lecture on beriberi, the cause of which is much disputed among medical authorities. The disease is not contagious, and its chief cause is eating pure rice, although the doctor disbelieves the theory that rice ever causes blood poisoning.

The speaker said that if rice is taken into the body along with other foods there is less danger of beriberi. He cited the cases of prisoners, factory hands, Buddhist monks and others, who ate much wheat mixed with rice. Buddhist monks eat ten or twenty times as much other food as rice, and rarely suffer from the disease. Among the factory hands of the Keijho Iron Foundry of the Mitsubishi company 450 of the 2,000 Japanese suffered from beriberi because they ate pure rice, while only 9 of 8,000 Koreans suffered from the disease presumably because they ate millet and beans.

Doctor Shimusono advised the eating of wheat with rice, in the ratio of six parts of rice to four parts of wheat. This will create a market for the shipment to Japan or larger quantities of wheat from Oregon and Washington.—East and West.

Sufficient Unto Themselves.

United States marines who have hobb-

nobbed with Filipino headhunters and have long been friendly with the Ghannorros of Gumm, met their Waterloo when they tried to establish the entente cordiale with the Cha-Chas of the Virgin Islands.

According to the marines the Cha-Chas are "poor mixers." They live on the west side of the harbor of Charlotte-Amalie, decline to mingle or intermarry with the negroes, and resent any outside interference with their affairs. They are the hardest drinkers and hest workers on the island, their industry bringing them a good living as fishermen and weavers of straw hats. The tribe is said to have come originally from the Dutch and French Leeward Islands.

So far the marines have taken only long distance observations of the Cha-Chas. For while the tribe is not hostile, its members indicate that they want to be left alone.

MULE OF PECULIAR COLOR

Driver Explained With Patience Just How the Animal's Strange Appearance Was Brought About.

Two mules, drawing an army service wagon, caused a sensation in Knightsbridge a short time ago. One mule was "poor but honest in appearance, brown in color; the other was a delicate shade of green. The green mule was solemnly unconscious of the attention he was attracting. "Effects of war oats?" asked a facetious United States soldier. A workman rubbed his eyes and then muttered, "camouflage." The A. S. C. driver looked thoroughly ashamed of the turnout. He stopped to pick up a crute. "What is the matter with your pony?" asked a wild man. "I am tired of being asked it, and it isn't a pony," replied the driver. "It is all through the chemical. Goodness knows what color it will be tomorrow. Its coat was very light once, and the other mules used to kick it. We washed it in some chemical dye to make it darker. The sergeant can't remember the name of the dye, and now that it is wearing off, it is a different color each day. You are the last person I shall explain it to." He drove off furiously—a khaki driver on a slate-gray lorry drawn by one honest brown mule and one shameless mule of an esthetic shade of green.—London Mail.

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY THIS IS WORTH READING

The experience of Mr. E. J. Tou-palik, 1438 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief."

"This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.

PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

The Mean Man.

Everybody knows the story about poor Tom Sharkey, who electrified the loungers in his saloon one day by saying heartily, "Well, boys, what are we going to have?" And then, as the loungers gathered round the bar, he added, "Rum or shine?"

Representative Gordon Lee, of Chickamauga told a story of a similar kind about a mean man at Atlantic City. Some friends visited him on a hot evening and after they had sweated in while in the sitting room he said:

"Well, friends, could you stand some refreshments?"

"We certainly could!" the visitors replied, and they moistened their dry lips in pleasant anticipation.

"Then," said the mean man, rising, "we'll open this window. There's promise of a breeze."

MY HEAD!

When the head feels thick or aches, when one feels all out-of-sorts—perhaps a coated tongue—it is the signal that poisons are accumulating in the system, and should be cleaned out at once.

Auto-intoxication can be best ascribed to our own neglect or carelessness. When the organs fail in the discharge of their duties, the putrefactive germs set in and generate toxins—actual poisons, which fill one's own body.

Sleepiness after meals, flushing of the face, extreme lassitude, biliousness, dizziness, sick headache, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, offensive breath, anemia, loss of weight and muscular power, decrease of vitality or lowering of resistance to infectious diseases, disturbance of the eye, dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, many forms of catarrh, asthma, ear affections and allied ailments result from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning.

Take castor oil, or procure at the drug store, a pleasant vegetable laxative, called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap.

ECZEMA!

Hunt's Salve, formerly called Hunt's Cure, is guaranteed to stop and permanently cure that terrible itching. It is compounded for that purpose and your money will be promptly refunded without question if Hunt's Salve fails to cure Eczema, Itch, Ringworm or any other skin disease. See the box.

Sulky Plow Economy

When you buy one of our John Deere Stag Sulky Plows, you buy no unnecessary parts. The Stag is all plow. Every one of its few parts aid directly in making it easier for you and the horses to do better plowing.

Because of its simplicity and great strength the Stag stays serviceable longer than any other plow of its type and requires fewer repairs.

Freedom from unnecessary parts, perfect balance and the absence of drag on the furrow bottom make the Stag the lightest running sulky plow. It does more work in the same time with less horse power.

The Stag has extreme clearance—four inches more than ordinary between beam and share point and six inches more than ordinary between front wheel rim and moldboard.

It is easy to operate the Stag—a boy can do it. By means of the landing lever, the operator can easily guide the plow around stones or other obstructions, or hold the plow on side hills, maintaining a full width cut.

The Stag's advantages have all been fully demonstrated. It is a favorite in all great farming sections because of its real economy. We want you to investigate these advantages.

Ask us to show you a John Deere Stag Sulky.

The New Edison

The Three Million Dollar Phonograph

THOMAS A. EDISON invented the phonograph in 1877. Later he improved his original phonograph to a point where his business advisers said to him: "You now have the best phonograph in existence. Let's go ahead and make it."

Mr. Edison shook his head and replied: "I am not going to put out a new phonograph until it is so perfect that its reproduction of music cannot be detected from the original music."

Thomas A. Edison spent three million dollars in cold cash to develop an instrument which matched the human voice and all kinds of musical instruments so perfectly that the original could not be told from the reproduction—or RE-CREATION, as it is now called.

PLAIN QUESTIONS TO

HARTFORD PEOPLE

Every Hartford Reader Will Admit the Soundness of the Logic

Would Hartford people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it. Statements like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader:

S., proprietor harness and grocery store, Main St., Hartford, says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a good medicine for kidney trouble for they have done me a great deal of good whenever I have had occasion to use them. Several times I have suffered from pains that I knew were caused from weak kidneys. At these times I have got Doan's Kidney Pills and have used them as directed. They have never failed to cure the attack." (Statement given February 23, 1912.)

On November 15, 1916, Mr. King said: "I still have an excellent opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and don't mind re-endorsing them. I use this medicine occasionally and always have excellent results."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. King had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

James Stucky Says, "Rat Cost Me $125 For Plumbing Bills"

"We couldn't tell what was clogging up our toilet and drains. We had to tear up floor, pipes, etc., found a rat's nest in basement. They had choked the pipes with refuse. The plumber's bill was $125. RAT-SNAP cleaned the rodent out." Three sizes 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by J. S. Caesbler & Co., and Taylor's Drug Store, Beaver Dam; Walker Myrtle, Horse Branch; Acton Bros., and Williams & Duke, Hartford, Ky.

Handsome
Garments

Rich in fabrics and distinctive in designs. The beautiful garments in newest modes and exact have been steadily arriving until our second floor shows an assemblage of which we are vastly proud.

The New Suits

Variety seems to be the keynote in suits this season and never were style fundamentals seen in wider or more effective variations. They reveal all ease and grace of contour and accuracy, a perfection of fit, combined with a fineness of tailoring and a minuteness of finishing. Notable innovations are seen in the new medium and unusually long coats, trim sleeves and new skirts; many are returned with rich contrasting fur, which tend to accentuate the graceful lines.
